

Index of features published in Learning Support issues 1 to 39

Issue 1

Helping children make good friends

Perfect partners. Why schools should listen to the parents of children with special needs

Making a classroom display - first of our two-part guide.

Finding your way through the qualification maze

Time to sort out TA pay?

Children's health. Are your pupils drinking enough?

Advice: "What should I do if a fight breaks out, and I'm the only adult present?"

Your health: look after your back

Playtime - great games to lead in the playground

Issue 2

Children who have witnessed violence in their own families need special support at school

Children's health - diabetes

Breakfast and after school clubs: new opportunities for support staff

"Great skills, but no promises on pay". Schools Minister Jacqui Smith talks about teaching assistants

Getting clever with classroom displays

Your health - do headlice come with the job?

Playtime - more games for the playground

Issue 3

How new TA roles are affecting classroom relationships

Are children with special needs getting enough support?

How teaching assistants are preventing bullying

Health: don't catch that school cold

Tips for becoming a brilliant story teller

Special needs money - should schools decide how to spend it?

Help children learn to care for their teeth

Advice: "Our school leaves children dirty after 'accidents' until a parent arrives - is this right?"

Playtime - cold weather games

Issue 4

Behaviour management for support staff - start of a new expert series

All about phonics

No joke - avoiding trips and slips at school

Children with food allergies

Supporting refugee children

What to expect from an autistic child

Class cover - how to prepare

A foundation degree could change your life

Advice: "I'm supporting a child with learning difficulties and don't know how to keep him busy."

Playtime - story games

Issue 5

School councils - teaching assistants are making the difference

Using your body language to improve children's behaviour

The teaching assistant who became a prize-winning author

What teaching assistants need to know about child sexual abuse

Shattered? You don't have to put up with chronic tiredness

Understanding ADHD

Advice: "The head wants us to attend staff meetings, but in our own time"

Playtime - games to warm up outside

Issue 6

Helping children prepare for secondary school

Children who are carers

Manage your time better

Help for stammerers

What is Assessment for Learning?

Understanding sickle cell disease

Behaviour management - why you need to take care of yourself too

Here's to safe drinking!

Special needs: dyslexia

Why teaching assistants are logging on to online forums

Advice: "How can I help an autistic child to respect other children's property?"

Playtime: ball games for all

Issue 7

Making the most of school trips

Manage behaviour in the playground

Dyspraxia

Supporting a bereaved child

Asking questions to deepen learning

Healthy Schools - teaching assistants are taking the lead

NNEB - valuable skills in today's schools

Depression - spot the warning signs

Don't miss out on tax credits

ICT Making Word more child-friendly

Advice: "Some of my TA colleagues are barely literate"

Playtime - hopscotch and 'aeroplane scotch'

Issue 8

Touchy subject - the pros and cons of physical contact with children

Managing children with challenging behaviour

Librarian? How to get your library buzzing

Special needs: supporting a child with a visual impairment

All about asthma

Staff vetting: what the new rules mean for you

Assessment for learning: make sure your feedback gives children the right messages

Your health: keeping fit for the job

ICT Make picture cards and games with Microsoft Word

Advice: "During wet play, how can I safely supervise three classes of children at the same time?"

Playtime - singing games

Issue 9

Looking after children's medical needs

Supporting children when their parents separate

How to start a club

Teachers who are working as teaching assistants

A practical guide to tackling bullying in your class or playground

Your health - look after your feet

Special needs: children with a hearing impairment

ICT Use Excel to sort test results and find averages

Advice: "I'm treated as an in-house supply teacher, but with no planning time"

Playtime - imaginative play

Issue 10

Working with children who don't speak any English

Could you be a school governor?

How to ask for a pay rise

Supporting looked-after children

Your health - coping with pain

Special needs: gifted and talented children

Children's health: obesity

Using the internet to find the best pictures for your displays

England, Scotland, Wales and northern Ireland - how different are TAs?

ICT How to find good pictures for your displays

Advice: "I have to break up fights nearly every day"

Playtime - indoor games with pencil and paper

Issue 11

Helping children whose parents drink too much

Develop your skills and knowledge while you work - new CPD series

How to find your perfect job

Circle time expert Jenny Mosley starts a series on how TAs can run great circles with small or large groups

Your health - get a good night's sleep

Special needs: differentiating work for children with learning difficulties

Children's health: HIV infection

Our club: readers write about the clubs they are running

ICT: Making labels with Microsoft Word

Advice - "I'm worried about working alone, one-to-one, with a disruptive child for three whole days a week."

Playtime: Games using playground markings

Issue 12

How teaching assistants are getting parents involved in school

Playground basics - first of a new expert series for playground supervisors

Going green: TAs take a lead in making schools more environmentally friendly

Muslim pupils - what you need to know to support them

Networking: why meeting up with TAs from other schools can benefit everyone

Children's health: all about anaemia

Craft: make a seascape

Early years - how to prepare for circle time

Your health - don't let stress make you ill

ICT How to make a slide show with PowerPoint

Advice - "I'm working with a teacher who doesn't seem to like children"

Playtime - survival tips for new playground supervisors

Issue 13

How to cope in class when the temperature soars

Is that child sad, or could he be depressed?

Taking first aid seriously

Awards galore - TAs get into the limelight

Different job, same skills - would you consider working in a secondary school?

Creepy-crawlies craft project

ICT - how to make a quiz

Curriculum - where to find what you need to know

Early Years - helping the children make the most of circle time

Making a quiz in PowerPoint

Advice - "What should I do about children misbehaving out of school?"

Playtime - keeping children safe

Issue 14

New term, new teacher? How to make sure the two of you are working as an effective team

Left-handed children - don't let them lose out at school

Women's work? Male nurses are a common sight. So why are so few men working as teaching assistants?

Child poverty Why low family income can put children at a serious disadvantage

at school

Autistic spectrum New expert series of tips on working with children with autistic disorders

New dawn for TA pay? National pay scales for school support staff are on the horizon

Children's health All about eczema

Circle time - drama and role play

Craft: be inspired by autumn leaves

ICT Pupils' work can be used to make customised calendars

Advice: "The head wants to change my job - a lot!"

Playtime - troubled and traumatised children

Issue 15

Building pupils' self-esteem

Violent behaviour

Autism - giving children choices means giving them a voice

Professional development - how new TAs can best learn on the job

Job satisfaction for teaching assistants

Teaching road safety to SEN children

Tackling anti-gay bullying

How to plan your circle time

Craft: festive stars

Children's health - threadworms

ICT - painting programmes

Advice - Is it wrong to stay in touch with a former pupil?

Playtime: small changes can make a big difference

Issue 16

What a foundation degree could offer you

Display know-how - new series on what works best

Don't be bullied

Helping children make the most of PE

Autistic spectrum -using rewards to motivate children

Working with parents

Is a food intolerance making you ill?

Craft: make a winter patchwork

Circle time in an early years setting

ICT: save time by getting your work organised

Advice - "I'm in sole charge of the most troublesome pupils"

Playtime - skipping games

Issue 17

More talking please! How speaking can help children think and learn

Displays - Make yours more effective as teaching tools

Autistic spectrum That squeaky door could be upsetting your pupil

"Our school is for whole families." TAs take a lead on family learning

Children's health - Don't let school damage their backs

Reading - TAs' role in the new catch-up literacy drives

Wet play - it doesn't have to be hell

Your health - time for a hearing test?

Craft: spring flower pots make a pretty gift

Getting the most from training

Breaks - what are your rights?

"Our gardening club"

Issue 18

Child neglect What is it, and what should you do?

What makes a good TA? By the TA who judges the Teaching Awards

How TAs get by on their pay

Classroom displays: health and safety matters

Children's health: Incontinence

New national occupational standards for TAs: What has changed, and will it affect you?

Craft project: windchimes

Your health: snoring can be a real nightmare

Teaching massage in primary schools

Tax credits - are you getting what you are entitled to?

ICT: turning children's work into greetings cards

Playtime - tips for improving playground behaviour

Issue 19

Gifted and talented - using your specialist skills and interests to bring out the best in children

Supporting pupils with a parent in prison

Trade unions for teaching assistants - complete guide to what they offer, and what they cost

Your health: bad breath

"Mathslexia" - helping children with no head for figures

The big move - helping children with transfer to secondary school

Making football fair in the playground

Displays: accelerated learning

Craft - make some beautiful bunting to flutter in the breeze

Children's health: sun protection

Essential skills for facilitating a school council

ICT. Get your computer records in shape

Issue 20

TAs who support Traveller and fairground children

The pros and cons of working as an agency TA

When teacher and TA can't get on

Your health: arthritis

Supporting children with no English

Displays - using designers' tricks to make a bigger impact

How to have a calmer dinner hall

Children's health: facial disfigurement

Craft: make a papier mache bowl

ICT Making your own posters and banners in Microsoft Publisher

Playtime: managing dinner hall mahem

Issue 21

SEN children and bullying

TA by day, barmaid by night? The second jobs keeping TAs afloat

Class cover - a beginner's guide to survival

Primary children who self-harm

Teaching friendship skills

Displays - how to use colour more effectively

Children's health: female genital mutilation

Craft - make a herd of dinosaurs

Your health: obsessive behaviour

ICT - beginner's guide to email

Playtime: lonely children

Issue 22

"It's all in the planning" - first of a new professional development series for teaching assistants

Children with Down's Syndrome. How to help them reach their full potential

Teaching assistants who work in British schools overseas

Child protection: how TAs are training parents to take better care of their kids

Use your languages - bilingual TAs can make all the difference to children's learning

Forgetful? Tips for getting your memory into shape

Displays - make a big impact in halls and corridors

Children's health: headlice

Craft - paper weaving with a difference

Playtime: story corners

Issue 23

School phobia - how TAs can help

Could you be a learning mentor?

National Occupational Standards series - effective differentiation

TAs talk about their classroom research projects

Children's health: meningitis

Using displays to make class rules stick

Don't let dehydration spoil your day

The TA who rescues battery chickens

Craft - printing with vegetables, card and string

Ten things to do with play dough (including making some)

Playtime: treasure hunts for all

Issue 24

A new way of looking at ADHD

Supporting adopted children and their families

National Occupational Standards series - assessment for learning

Where to look for a (new) TA job

Your health: headaches

Interactive displays that work

School trips; get out and about without losing sleep

Circle games in the playground

Craft - making models of people from junk

Children's health: thalassaemia

The Welsh TA who started a charity in Malawi

Playtime - circle games

Issue 25

How to give yourself the best chance at a job interview

Helping children communicate with signs and symbols

Social and Emotional Learning (SEAL): teaching assistants take the lead

Physical fitness - getting children moving

All about the new support staff pay body

3D displays

Children's health: foot troubles

Ideas for summer play activities

The school where TAs teach Turkish

Early years: ten things to do with Duplo

Craft: making beautiful birds

Playtime: summer activities

Issue 25

Making it work better if you're a TA and a lunchtime supervisor

Why grandparents should go back to school

Working as a TA in a special school

How to teach pupils how to behave

Displays: word walls

Your health: carer at home, TA at school

Running a poetry workshop

Two TA-librarians show you their new beautiful new library

Craft: looking at painting styles

Using puppets in the classroom

Playtime - knowing when to intervene

Issue 26

New qualifications for TAs - will you be affected?

Supporting visually impaired children

Behaviour - using rewards effectively

How "Rarely cover" rules are affecting TAs

Displays: mounting children's work

Your health: swine flu

TAs who trained to teach PE

Children's health: are farm visits still safe?

Craft: beautiful lanterns for Christmas

Playtime - the power of positive thinking

Issue 27

How to give even the youngest pupils a say in what happens at school

Teaching assistants' crucial role in "virtual schools" for looked after children

Behaviour: the role of sanctions

Children's health - what you need to know about tuberculosis

Don't be a Velcro TA! Good practice in supporting pupils with SEN

TAs train to stop bullying

Craft: how to make colourful felt bags

Me and My Job – the HLTA who teaches touch typing

Your health: falls really aren't funny

Displays: active learning

"Why I love education outside the classroom"

Playtime - getting playground rules right

Issue 28

How to give even the youngest pupils a say in what happens at school

Teaching assistants' crucial role in "virtual schools" for looked after children.

Behaviour: the role of sanctions

Children's health - what you need to know about tuberculosis

Don't be a Velcro TA! Good practice in supporting pupils with SEN

TAs train to stop bullying

Craft: how to make colourful felt bags

Me and My Job – the HLTA who teaches touch typing

Your health: falls really aren't funny

Displays: active learning

Issue 29

How TAs are using mediation to tackle behaviour

When parents have mental health problems

Your guide to Asperger's Syndrome

Finding your feet - top tips for new TAs

Making school better for children with epilepsy

Working as a team

Craft: animal masks

Ideas for a great playtime, whatever the weather

Displays that give children a voice

Your health: painkiller dangers

Issue 30

How to become a qualified teacher

Supporting pupils from military families

Teach children to stay safe on the internet

So what is "formative assessment", and how can it help TAs do their job better?

Body language - giving them the right message

Children's health: nosebleeds

Craft - geometric designs based on tiles and quilts

Volunteer readers need TA support to be most effective

Displays: how to present a set of similar pupil work

Your health - a runny nose could be caused by allergic rhinitis

Playtime - why children love to play on the grass

Issue 31

Caring for Cuddles - the pros and cons of animals in the classroom

Teaching assistants and the new government - what does the future hold?

Reflective practice for TA

Could you be a Parent Support Advisor?

Why some children smell, and what you should do

Interactive display corners

Your health: look after your feet

Craft - beautiful butterflies for your classroom

Playtime - the best play props are free

Tracking is fun and helps children explore outside space

Plus Webworld, TA Talk, and children's book reviews

Issue 32

Pinched, bitten, and kicked - should TAs have to put up with assaults by pupils?

When parents are on drugs

Going private - what's life like for a TA in an independent school?

Children's health: early puberty

All about learning disability - start of an expert series

Ceiling displays in the classroom

Playtime - creating a positive atmosphere in the playground

Your health: blood pressure

Craft - make an apple-book

Displays: using the ceiling

Issue 33

Special Educational Needs - are you supporting the right pupils?

Using force to manage aggressive behaviour

Supporting children in step families

How to survive the Christmas show

Help children get organised

Self-harm in younger children

Dyslexia - how to make a real difference

Craft: build a local street from cardboard boxes

Your health - protect your eyesight

Ask Sue. Advice on how much help to give pupils, and coping with challenging behaviour

Playtime - role of the lunchtime supervisors' leader

Issue 34

Toilet trouble. What schools can do to help children with continence. And when accidents do happen, is it really your job to clear up?

How to deal with cyberbullying. Sticks and stones can break bones, but cruel

Facebook posts and text messages can break young hearts.

How can you get funding for your HLTA assessment now Government has cut local councils' budgets?

Learning difficulties - all about dyspraxia and dyscalculia

Craft - create a snowflake display

Keeping things tidy in the classroom

Behaviour - coping with attention-seekers

Dangerous asbestos - is it in your school?

Children's health: preventing back troubles

Ask Sue. Advice on getting your first TA job; feeling isolated at school; having an appraisal

Playtime - how physical activity supports learning

Issue 35

Why are boys falling behind at school - and what can teaching assistants do to help?

Piggy in the middle? Working in a class with job share teachers

Teaching assistants can make great foster carers

Look after your voice - you need it

Making sense of the new qualifications for teaching assistants

Craft: easy frames for photos and other pictures

How to start a lunchtime club

Children's health: glue ear

Advice - "I don't like hearing my own child being told off!"

Playtime: letting children do it their way

Issue 36

Facebook: what teaching assistants need to know

Understanding children with obsessive compulsive disorder

Facing the worst - your redundancy rights

How to make a kite

Tips to keep your school club running smoothly

Displays: how to use 'fussy cutting'

Build a qualification with the new QCF

Advice: "I don't agree with the teacher's outlook"

Prepare for wet play, and make it more fun for everyone

Issue 37

Angry parents - what to do if you're in the firing line

Preparing children with SEN for secondary transfer

Don't let your job damage your back

CPD: your role in planning

Put your skills on show by helping with the school play

Displays: making borders work better

In praise of lunchtime supervisors

Advice: "I'm worried about working with older children"

Craft: make a magic wallet

Issue 38

Every day counts - teaching assistants' vital role in improving pupil attendance

Stamping out racism in school

Young children with eating disorders

How did you make ends meet over the summer?

Arty? How to develop your role in the classroom

Using displays to improve pupil behaviour

National Occupational Standards series: evaluation

Getting things right at lunchtime

Craft - how to make top pencil holders

Issue 39

Skills for building better working relationships

Scandal of TAs who don't get proper breaks

Asking the right questions to help children learn

Easy costumes for the Nativity play

Supporting a child with haemophilia

National Occupational Standards series: TA role

Making your working wall work better

Craft - festival elephants for Christmas